Where you can also find research, videos, recommended reading, and more...

Sharing the "Intention" with others helps support its growth and realization!

Learn about the 8th chakra and this period of time as a gateway of opportunity for shifting the collective consciousness of humanity please listen to an interview with Dr. Jude Currivan, author of The 8th Chakra.

Learn about a series of scientifically controlled, web based Experiments conducted by Lynne McTaggart, best-selling, author The Intention Experiment, using the power of intention to create physical change in the world, including a Peace Intention Experiment.

Research being conducted through the Global Coherence Initiative at the Institute of HeartMath found that, “as groups of people intentionally send love and care to the world, a more powerful heart-filled environment is created. The generation of love, heart-based energy has also been shown to bring balance and stability to the mind and emotions, making it easier to stay in a resourceful state in which creativity for solving problems is enhanced.”

Watch video - Global Consciousness Project (GCP) being conducted through Princeton University has documented the effects of our collective reactions to global events. The data collected shows that “widely shared experiences of deeply engaging events,” such as the funeral ceremonies of Princess Diana, create “shared emotions” and a “coherence of consciousness.”
